Learn the Basics... of Water Treatment and Then Some

September 14, 2010 • Irvine, California

Make yourself an authority on water quality by attending this comprehensive seminar. You'll learn POU/POE Technologies including cation exchange water softening, residential reverse osmosis, filtration, activated carbon, and how basic water chemistry applies to each of them. New for this year, Joe will provide a discussion and review of the cutting-edge topics in areas of water chemistry, water quality parameters, history and mechanisms of treatment technologies, HPC microorganisms, corrosion, water mathematics, and plumbing facts.

INSTRUCTOR: Joseph F. Harrison, PE, CWS-VI, former Technical Director WQA (Ret.) for 20 years, now serving as Technical Advisor to WQA, is a registered professional engineer with more than 30 years experience in drinking water and safety. Prior to his position with WQA, Mr. Harrison was Chief, Safe Drinking Water branch for Region V of the USEPA. He serves as technical consultant on matters related to significance and resolution of drinking water contamination and health problems and has participated in the development of USEPA drinking water regulations.
